Recommended Retest Date Policy

Recommended Retest Date Products

Some products supplied by RICCA Chemical Company may list a recommended retest date in lieu of an expiration date. Products with a recommended retest date are indicated by the phrases “Retest Date” or “Retest” on the product label and Certificate of Analysis, as well as by the product webpage listing of “N/A” under the shelf life column. The product retest date is the end of a period of time during which a product is expected to remain within established specifications, if stored under recommended storage conditions. Our product retest periods have been evaluated and established by review of the product or the history of a comparable product.

The quality and integrity of any chemical product, and its suitability for use, are highly dependent on how the material is handled and stored. RICCA is unable to validate the adherence to recommended storage conditions of our products upon leaving our facilities; therefore customers maintain the responsibility to independently retest and/or verify the usability of a product prior to use beyond the product recommended retest date.
